PhilEASNet
AFFNR Extension Symposium

*Facing the Challenges of the Fourth Industrial Revolution (4IR)
Through Extension and Advisory Services*

Conversations on 4IR
Mechanics

(1)   Each resource person is allowed 10 minutes to present his or her agency's or company's 4IR technologies (with practical applications in extension and advisory services) in a plenary session

(2)   After all presentations have been delivered, resource persons go to their respective tables to converse or interact with the participants

(3)   Participants may choose which tables to approach one at a time

(4)   Participants are given 10 minutes to spend per table

(5)   A time keeper will signal if 10 minutes have been consumed before allowing participants to visit other tables

(6)   It is anticipated that conversations with the resource persons will be completed within an hour
